Hello Toptal hiring team,

The line in your posting about not being here just to tell other people what to do is why I am applying. That has been the shape of my last twelve years.

At Brightcove I ran Asia across 15+ countries and grew the region from ~$4M to ~$11.5M ARR, which made it Brightcove's market leader in video SaaS.

I carried a number throughout at 120%+ of quota every year, hunting large deals above run-rate when pipeline alone would not get there. I also led the team that closed the company's largest deal globally, $12M over three years.

I built the org that delivered it. A 20+ person team across Singapore, Mumbai and New Delhi, managing managers, turnover under 10%, 80% of AE promotions grown in-house. Hiring and underperformance were mine to handle, not an HR process I referred things into.

In terms of the harder half of your JD, the part where growth depends on solving the practical problems of doing business in a market. I opened Vietnam, Taiwan, Thailand and the Philippines for $2M+ new ARR. I also formally opened the India office, after a long and unglamorous legal/operating project.

Through Ziplake I turned one Roche Diagnostics relationship into an exclusive global reseller agreement, seven figures on a three-year minimum, because a small vendor needed local paper in markets it could not transact in directly. It produced multiple NHS sales and a ten-year OLVG contract.

To be clear on the services/AI side - I have sold services/outcomes rather than licences for seven years, and I build production AI systems myself (Claude API agents, MCP servers, GTM automation). So when a seller tells me a client needs an AI-based solution, I can judge whether that is real.

One qualifier up front. I am Valencia-based and work fully remotely, engaged through a non-Spanish entity. I have run a business across borders and time zones, literally from a 40-foot boat, so remote and self-directed is simply how I work.

Happy to hop on a call to talk through any of the above. I think the travel shape across four regions is the one thing worth getting straight early, whilst the rest of it is fairly standard.

Thanks for your time and your consideration,
Ben Morrell
