Hello,

Thanks for the chance to put myself forward for Head of Distributor, Europe. The posting is really a build brief, and that is the part I want.

An Australian IoT company had a dormant Roche Diagnostics ($80B) relationship and nothing else in Europe. I turned it into an exclusive global reseller agreement, seven figures on a three-year minimum.

It then stalled inside Roche's Legal and Compliance review, which is where most of these quietly die. I kept their commercial sponsors visible and held our side firm on exclusivity. That channel produced NHS sales plus a ten-year contract with OLVG in the Netherlands, and much of it started on trade-show floors.

At Brightcove I recruited 15+ ISV and agency partners across Asia and that channel drove 35% of regional pipeline. I grew the region from ~$4M to ~$11.5M ARR at 120%+ of quota.

To be clear on the gap, since it is your first requirement. I have not sold simulation software or sold into automotive/aerospace.

In terms of what does transfer - a distributor already has those relationships. What they usually lack is a vendor who can make their engineers confident enough to put their own name on the product and argue it against the incumbent.

I came up doing that. Playout infrastructure across 12+ Asian countries sold almost entirely through integrators/resellers, and before that solutions engineering inside an integrator.

Firstly - I am an engineer by training. MEng Electronic Engineering, then a decade in broadcast infrastructure.

A 50-500x speed-up changes how often an engineer can afford to ask a question. I think that makes a GPU-native solver easier to enable a channel on than most, because the demo does most of the arguing for you.

I also ship LLM applications on the Claude API, AI agents and a production MCP server, so FlexAgent is not an abstraction to me.

Worth raising early: I am fully remote from Valencia on CET and engaged through a non-Spanish entity. Your benefits list reads US-shaped, so the open question is which entity would contract someone resident in Spain.

I have run a business across borders and time zones literally from a 40-foot boat, so remote and self-directed is simply how I work.

Happy to hop on a call to talk through any of the above. CV attached.

Thanks for your time and your consideration,
Ben Morrell
