Hello Cyara hiring team,

Thanks for putting the EMEA Partner Manager role up with the partner types named. It made the fit easy to check, so here is the case on one page, with the gaps stated up front.

The role is recruit, contract, onboard and grow partners across AI providers, CCaaS platforms, GSIs and consultants. That lifecycle is the part of partnerships I have done most, at both ends of the scale.

The deal I would point to is Roche Diagnostics. For a small IoT company with no EU channel I ran the outreach and negotiated an exclusive global reseller agreement (seven figures, three-year minimum) with an $80B counterparty.

It then stalled in Roche's legal and compliance process. It got signed because I kept the commercial sponsors visible and answered every compliance question fast. That channel went on to produce the NHS sales and a ten-year contract with OLVG in the Netherlands.

At scale, at Brightcove, I recruited 15+ ISV and agency partners across Asia and ran the global partner programme regionally: onboarding, enablement, joint business plans and performance reviews. The channel reached 35% of regional pipeline whilst the region grew from ~$4M to ~$11.5M ARR.

To be clear - I have not onboarded partners inside a CCaaS vendor. The nearest is Vee24, a CX platform I sold across EMEA/APAC in 2024-25, including an enterprise POC with Honda's Middle East operation to centralise customer communications.

And the SIs I have signed were regional (the largest in APAC, for Encoding.com) rather than Accenture-scale. I would rather say both than pretend.

Where I think I am unusual for this seat is the AI half. Cyara tests AI agents with AI agents, and I build them (agents, a production MCP server, GTM automation etc.) on the Claude API. So I can talk to an AI provider's partner team as a builder on their platform, not only as the partner manager with the deck.

In terms of the practical side - fully remote from Valencia on EMEA hours, contracting through a non-Spanish entity, and happy to travel for the events calendar. I have run partners across 15+ countries and sold in most of them.

So - happy to hop on a call to talk through where the EMEA partner list should start. CV attached.

Thanks again and looking forward to hearing from you,
Ben Morrell
